DEATH ENDS REMARKABLE

LONGEVITY OF TWO BROTHERS

Mike and William Riordan, Nearing the Century Mile Post of Life, Die on Same Day and Are Buried in the Same Grave.

Mike and William Riordan, brothers, both past the four score and ten milestones of life, died on last Sunday at their humble cabin home, in the neighborhood of Victoria, this county.

Mike, the elder, lacked but two years of rounding out the century mark, while William, "the youngster," as he was frequently called by his brother, had passed far into the nineties.

William died at 7 o'clock in the morning of pneumonia, and Michael succumbed at noon to senility.

Inseparable from youth, they had traveled the long and rugged journey of life alone, save for a maiden sister, who, though herself feeble from the infirmities of old age in latter years, had tended to the household duties.

Neither had ever taken unto himself a wife and it is related of them that even when the flame of love swelled to large proportions in the bosom of William when he had reached the age of two-score years and he threatened to take unto himself a mate, Mike, the elder, interposed. "Nay, nay, William," said he, "I've have forty years or more to decide this question. Don't rush." And William yielded and locked the doors of his heart forever to Cupid's wiles.

For forty years they had lived in the little home, but had seen better days when fortune favored them, but their generous and charitable natures were imposed upon and in latter years they had been reduced to straitened circumstances.

For two-score years or more they had brought produce to town, and rain or shine, winter or summer, every Wednesday William, astride his horse, would bring his basket of butter.

The two brothers were strict Catholics and never missed a service when it was possible to attend. Funeral services were held at St. Rose church in this city, yesterday at noon, conducted by Father Celestial Bey, the pastor. The bodies were laid side by side in one grave in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Lewis' hospitality is making her home known as a place where the young people can "see a good time", and an invitation to her house is never refused. Miss Reba Lewis, the popular young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Lewis, assisted them in entertaining.

CLOVERPORT SETS BAD EXAMPLE

In Matter of Holding Up Trains. Now Comes a Constable of Barlow, Ky., Doing The Act.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 21.—Constable H. B. Tanner, of Barlow, Ky., actually took charge of the Illinois Central passenger station and all the cars of local freight in the yards at that place yesterday, under attachment for a judgment of $40 against the railroad. Station Agent Hughes was not permitted to get a single coal during the morning and nearly froze, while the constable assumed possession of the key to the coal rack, which he had taken the precaution to lock. He drove a freight crew away from loaded cars standing on the siding, but at noon he compromised by permitting the agent to get a load of coal and continue selling tickets, while he held one car of freight, allowing the train to be made up and started on its way to Paducah. He said he would give the company until Monday noon to pay up, or he would tie up all its business in Barlow.

REVIVAL POSTPONED.
Special Sermon Sunday Morning at The Methodist Church—Announcements By The Rev. Lewis.

The series of meetings which were to have commenced the fourth Sunday of March, will not begin until Easter Sunday. The Rev. Thomas, of Owensboro, will arrive here then to assist Rev. Currie in the annual Methodist revival.

A special sermon next Sunday a. m. subject "Every Member His Place." All the members urgently requested to be present, and all others cordially invited.

"The Way of The Cross" services will be held at the St. Rose Catholic church Friday afternoon.

The only services to be held at the Lucile Memorial church Sunday will be Sunday School Sunday at ten o'clock.

All the members of the Epworth League are requested to be present at the church Thursday at 7:30 P. M.

The Rev. James T. Lewis has decided to give the members of the Baptist Church another opportunity to contribute to the Foreign Mission and has set the date for the second Sunday in March for this purpose. On account of the inclement weather, few were present at the service Sunday and the collection was not large.

WASHINGTON'S ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated in Grand Style By Epworth League.

Everybody said, "It was a nice entertainment" when they left the Martha Washington reception given by the Epworth League in Olesse Hall last Friday evening in celebration of George Washington's birthday. It was nice in all its appointments and the large number of guests present enjoyed the affair and got their money's worth. Miss Lula Severs and James Younger, who played well the parts of Martha and George, were exceedingly popular, mingling in the crowd with that old time cordial manner.

Martha Washington's slaves who were: Harold Murray, Virgil Babage, William White, Lawrence Murray, Harry Newson, Ira Bolen, David Phelps, Allen P. Perce, J. B. Severs were made up dummies and were obedient servants. They served the luncheon and ices. Misses Margaret Burn, Pauline Moorman, Edith Burn, Mayme DeHaven and Louise Babage had charge of the tables and directed the serving of the guests. The candy and chocolate booth was successfully carried on by Misses Ella Smith and Margaret Skillman.

Mrs. James Younger, Mrs. H. L. Stader, and Miss Ols Fallon, gave their services in the domestic part of entertainment and were assisted by Mrs. Chas. Hall, who, although, was not a Leaguer, helped them out of a tight place.

The cakes and candies made by the members of the League were delicious and were contributed by several who did not take part in the reception.

A number of the Leaguers were ill and not able to be present.

The hall was artistically decorated by Harry G. Newson.

The League took in forty or fifty dollars and cleared about fifteen which will be used for charitable purposes.

The patronage of the public was greatly appreciated by the Epworth League and the members will be pleased to cater to everybody at their future entertainments.

Every member of the church is requested to contribute to the Foreign Mission the second Sunday.

The Baptist Young People's Union has its regular meeting at 6:30 every Sunday evening. The services were led last Sunday by Miss Anne Jarboe.

WHISKY CASE IS DISMISSED

Judge Holds Evidence Premature In View of Case Now Pending Before Supreme Court.

On information furnished, the case of the Commonwealth vs. John Weisenberg, &c., for violating the local option laws of Cloverport, came up for trial in the Circuit Court Monday. Judge Chelf dismissed the case on the ground that the evidence submitted was premature in view of the fact that a case bearing upon the whisky question is now pending before the Court of Appeals.

Attorney Layman has taken an appeal to the supreme court. The case before the court this week was only a test case and if a decision favoring local option is rendered, the cases to follow will be vigorously prosecuted by the temperance people.

NO NEED OF TREATY

Japanese Dissension Will Be Covered Under Some Form of Special Arrangement.

TO WITHOLD THEIR PASSPORTS

Japanese Government Expected to Refrain From Granting Permission to Laborers to Come to This Country—Californians Express Satisfaction.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The state department is being more fairly treated, through the passage of the immigration bill, that the San Francisco authorities will rescind their action excluding Japanese pupils from the white schools, is prepared to take up again the negotiations that were already in progress with the Japanese government looking to the regulation of Japanese immigration into the United States. It is expected that the negotiations will result in an agreement between the government of Japan and that of the United States, withholding by the former of passports to Japanese of the laboring classes seeking to enter the United States. For several years past the Japanese government has declined to issue any such passports, but the intention is to make this a matter of formal agreement if possible. In the short time remaining of the present session of congress it is not possible, it is said, to frame anything in the nature of a treaty which would require the action of the senate. In fact, it is by no means certain that a formal convention is necessary to insure the continuance of the present Japanese policy of refusing passports to the United States to certain classes, so that the basis of the agreement reached between President Roosevelt, Secretary Root, Mayor Schuchman, and the members of the San Francisco school board on the Japanese school controversy provides that "all children of alien races under sixteen years of age, who speak the English language, may be admitted to the white schools. Special schools are to be established for children of alien birth, who are deficient in the elements of the English language."

JAPS RESIGNED

General Public in Island Empire Not Much Concerned.

Tokio, Feb. 19.—The passage of President Roosevelt's passport bill by the senate of the United States was not much concerned in the Japanese school controversy.

The leading newspapers today explained that this action by the United States government is perfectly legitimate and in accordance with treaty stipulations. It is also pointed out that the promise of success of the judicial procedure in the school question is lessening. The newspapers thus far have refrained from making comment on this latest news from Washington. It is believed that the emigration companies will combine to attack the government's attitude if an agreement is reached with America on the basis proposed. It is thought that the general public, while regretting the solution of the San Francisco school question taking this form, will mainly resign itself to the situation.

PRISONER'S OWN STORY

Harry Thaw Said Providence Led Him to Kill White.

New York, Feb. 19.—"I never wanted to shoot the creature. I never wanted to kill him. I knew he was a foul creature, destroying the mothers and daughters of America, but I wanted through legal means to bring him to trial. I wanted to get him into court—to bring him to justice. But providence took charge of it; it was act of providence."

This is Harry K. Thaw's own story of the killing of Stanford White. It was told by him to Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist, last August, in the Tombs. Monday Dr. Evans repeated the prisoner's word to the jury which is trying Thaw for his life.

District Attorney Jerome fought hard last week against the introduction of the evidence which the defense believes is conclusive proof that Thaw did not know his act was wrong. Once the testifying physician had declared that in his opinion Thaw was insane at the time he made the statement to him, however, the rules of evidence permitted the introduction of the prisoner's words.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1907.

Washington was the richest man in the United States when he died—worth about $2,000,000. He was a hard-working, industrious man. He inherited an estate, acquired more by marriage, accumulated some by foresight, increased it by speculation and by industry and the rise in values of his land added another big slice to his fortune. Most people in this day and time have the impression that he was a poor man; that he had very little of this world's goods. The orators, especially, on this phase of his character. They do it for effect and to switch the minds of the people from his leading characteristics which were harmony, honesty, industry and frugality. What we need is more of Washington's leading virtues, pure patriotism, love and affection for our country for its own sake and the acceptance as permanent occupants in our hearts and minds of the virtues which Washington regarded as all that was necessary to make us a great and happy people, and which he declared to be "the great and essential pillars of public life"—harmony, honesty, industry and frugality.

BADLY AFFLICTED WITH ECZEMA

For More Than Two Years—Tries Physicians, Patent Remedies, Old Women and Quack Cures and Found No Relief.

USES CUTICURA AND IS SOON SOUND AND WELL

"I was very badly afflicted with eczema for more than two years. The parts affected were my limbs below the knees. I tried all the physicians in the town and some in the surrounding towns, and I also tried all the patent remedies that I heard of, besides all the cures advised by old women and quacks, and found no relief whatever until I commenced using the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. My sister said it was the Cuticura Soap. I tried immediate relief, and was soon sound and well."—Betts, Tippecanoe, Ind., Nov. 15, '05.

DANDRUFF KILLS HAIR

Cuticura Soap Kills Dandruff

"I was troubled with dandruff on my head ever since I was twelve years old. I had beautiful hair up to that time. The dandruff destroyed my hair. I tried everything I could hear of. I had no doctor, but I went into a drug store where I was well acquainted and asked the druggist if he knew of anything that would be good for me. He said: 'Of course I do. Just get a cake of Cuticura Soap.' I got it. I did my hair good the first time I used it. My sister-in-law couldn't keep the dandruff off the top of her baby's head and the hair wouldn't grow. I was there, had a month's Cuticura Soap. I told her about it, and gave her the Cuticura Soap, and in about three months I went there again, the child's head was covered with hair and not a trace of dandruff. My sister said it was the Cuticura Soap. The child is now just three years old and has lovely head of hair. Mrs. E. W. Shipley, Columbus, Kan., Oct. 25, 1905."

Divide the year by 4, taking no notice of the remainder. Next find the number of days inclusive from the 1st of January to the date in hand, reckoning February always as having only twenty-eight days. As Others Saw Him.

The artist possessed a strange talent. It was to depict a face as it will look after the years have gone by and made it old. At dinner with him sat a man, old enough, in all conscience, and unbecomingly. The artist at once busied himself with drawing a sketch of him which so exaggerated his age and ugliness that the lip of the old man trembled at the sight of it, and a tear rose to his eye. A woman who sat at the same table took pencil and paper and began to draw, not the old man, but the artist, who, though young, was quite as unbecomingly. She fashioned the uneven line of his profile, the small, crooked nose, the unstable chin, the high, laid forehead, the fringe of hair around the edge of the baldness, the neck, the collar, and handed it to him.

"The likeness is perfect," cried the others. "We didn't know you could draw. When did you learn and how?"

"I can't remember when I learned or how, I have drawn so long," said she. "But," as she saw the chagrin of the artist, "I seem to have been educated in art for the triumph of this moment."—New York Press.

A Harem Dinner.

"It was my first harem dinner," said the lady missionary. "We sat on the floor at a round table a foot high. Servants eased us down into our seats and lifted us up again after the meal was over. I asked the blessing. Each course was served in one great dish, and we helped ourselves with our fingers—the first two fingers of the right hand. Since I was their guest, the cutlery wives customarily selected tidbits and pressed them daintily between my lips with finger and thumb. To refuse would have been rude. I ate the tidbits down. The dish I remember was a lamb roasted whole. Inside the lamb was a chicken, inside the chicken was a pigeon, inside the pigeon was a quail, and inside the quail was a beagle. The beagle tastes like a redbird. It is so small you swallow it, head, bones and all, in one mouthful."

PRESIDENT FINLEY, OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY, ADDRESSES SUBORDINATES

The representatives of the Freight and Passenger Departments of the Southern Railway Company were brought together in Atlanta on February 13th, at the request of President Finley, who addressed them in part as follows:

Your duties bring you into personal and daily contact with the people along the lines of the Southern Railway, and I as one who has filled positions which some of you are now filling, propose to speak to you briefly of the relations of freight and passenger agents to the public. Your duties are of a two fold nature. You owe duties to the railway company by which you are employed and you owe duties to the public. These double duties do not in any way result in conflict or divided allegiance, for he serves the railway best who serves the public best.

The general officers of a railway have unfortunately, too few opportunities for meeting and talking with the people who are dependent upon the road for transportation services. The man having business relations with the road, as a rule, comes into personal contact with the local representatives of the traffic and operating departments. The policies of the railway are formulated and mapped out by the general officers, but the application of these policies to specific transactions must be entrusted in the main to men in the field. It follows, then, that you have in a substantial sense the reputation of the Southern Railway Company for fair and just dealing in your hands. Whether the company shall be popular or unpopular depends in very large measure upon your attitude toward the public and upon your treatment of those doing business with the road. It is of supreme importance, therefore, that you, who daily come into intimate personal contact with the public, should bear in mind constantly that it is the unvarying policy of the company to be just and fair to all alike—to the small shipper and the occasional traveler as well as to the large shipper and the regular traveler; that you should be perfectly frank in all business dealings; that you should always be considerate and patient, and that you should do all in your power to make the services of the road satisfactory to those for whom they are performed.

All classes of the public should be treated with consideration and be given every reasonable accommodation. Even the man who makes impossible or unreasonable demands should not be dismissed with a curt refusal. He may not know that what he asks is either impossible or unreasonable, and a few words of frank explanation pointing out to him why his wishes cannot be complied with may send him away a friend to the road instead of a faultfinder. While every thing possible should be done should be for the accommodation of those doing business with the road, care should be exercised not to promise the impossible in the way of facilities or services. When failure to fulfill such a promise follows, the man who made it may be able to shift responsibility to the operating or some other department or officer, but the damage done to the reputation of the road cannot be easily remedied. Questions that seem to you to be trivial may be considered of much importance by the persons asking them and they should be answered with patience and courtesy.

The efficiency of the service as a whole depends upon the efficiency of each individual official and employee. Every agent and employee should study his duties in detail and should understand thoroughly just what he is to do in any contingency that may arise. He should then neglect no details of his duties, however unimportant it may seem to him, for no matter how carefully and minutely duties may be prescribed by the general officers, the neglect of some apparently minor detail may lead to serious or possibly to disastrous results. Of even more importance than a careful observance of duties prescribed by the company is obedience to law. Many of the relations between the railways and the public are now regulated by Federal and State statutes, and every official and employee of the Southern Railway Company must understand that its business affairs are to be conducted at all times in strict accordance with the laws of the land. No transaction or practice that is forbidden by the laws of the land is permitted, and as I am sure you all understand, there must be no resort to evasion of any kind.

As representatives of the Southern Railway Company you should bear in mind at all times the basic fact that the interests of the railway and of those served by it are identical and that they are inseparably interwoven. The railway can prosper only as a result of the prosperity of communities by which the demand for transportation is increased, and the prosperity of the South can continue and can be brought to the highest possible level only through adequate and efficient transportation facilities. At the present time, when every effort is being made to supply additional facilities and more efficient services, nothing is more important than that the truth of this proposition should be realized by men in all lines of business. When once this identity of interests is thoroughly understood the railroads of the South and the people will be brought together in more harmonious co-operation for the development of the natural resources of the South and for the expansion of all lines of industry. The men in the freight and passenger department are in a position to do much to bring about this mutual good understanding and this harmonious co-operation for the upbuilding of the territory traversed by the lines of the company. Your careful attention to the wants of the people and your considerate treatment of everyone having business with the road will serve as a constant object lesson of its interest in the individuals and communities along its lines.

My personal experience convinces me that the people as a rule are fair-minded and when fully informed can be relied upon to deal justly with the transportation interests.

I feel sure that it is only necessary to direct your attention to the importance of your relations to the public, and that we shall have your loyal support in carrying out what is the policy of the company—the building up of a thoroughly efficient transportation system on the solid basis of harmonious relations with the people along its lines.

There is another point to which I desire to call your special attention: The management of the Southern Railway has been confided to us as a high and sacred trust. This trust is not confined to the President, the general officers or the Board of Directors. It applies with equal obligation, in his sphere of action, to the humblest employee as it does to the highest. Each has his duty to perform and, in the performance of that duty, he represents the railway and is engaged in the performance of a trust in respect to which the brakeman cannot perform the President's duty, nor can the President perform the brakeman's. Each must do faithfully his own duty, and only in the honest and faithful performance of duty by all can there come a proper measure of success.

The railway and the public are entitled to the very best that is in our employes, from the highest to the lowest—they are both entitled to demand that there shall be no lukewarm or limited service, but that the heart of your employes shall be in their work. All of us have voluntarily undertaken a duty in respect to this property and the railway and the public should receive from each of us full and faithful performance.

I wish to build among all our employes a spirit of interest and co-operation—a spirit in which each man will recognize that he is identified with the railway and will earnestly and honestly work for its welfare. Only in this way can we successfully administer the trust which has been confided to us.

IN MEMORY OF "AUNT POLLY"

Polly Board, (colored), departed this life Feb. 16, 1921. She was fifty years old. She professed Christianity nineteen years ago during Rev. Talbut's pastorate.

Aunt Polly had been sick all the fall and winter and last Monday she had a relapse and grew steadily worse until the end came. She told her daughter, Sallie, "I will not get well but the Lord has prepared a home for me in Heaven." When her son, Clarence, asked her if she was prepared to die, she said, "Yes, I ask the Lord to spare me to see my children and see I am good and kind." She was a kind and devoted mother and a faithful womanly woman. Her last words were: "I want to see my Mary." She leaves to mourn her death two daughters and many relatives. Besides these she had many friends among the white people who highly respected her. Among them are Mrs. A. R. Fisher and Mrs. Frank Fraize. The following are the words of a friend.

Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter in the joy of thy Lord. Truly Aunt Polly earned this great promise of God, it is attested by those who knew her best, of her love and faith. She had great kindness in her heart, if she had nothing else to give it would be a cup of cold water or a flower and place them in your house or if she thought you were tired she had a kind word and helping hand. Many little white arms were put around her neck with the words "You are my black mammy".

Her energy, her devotion in her family were known to all, and as they gathered around her dying bed she looked up and smiled and said "The Lord has been so good to me." May we rejoice in the hope of meeting her again some day for it was through the Spirit she waited for the hope of righteousness of faith.

MADE A BAD START

Installation of Electric Service on
New York Central Railway
Attended by Disaster.

TWENTY PERSONS WERE KILLED

Electric Train Going Seventy Miles an Hour Leaves the Track and Death Claims Many Victims, the Most of Whom Were Women.

New York, Feb. 18.—Twenty dead, two fatally hurt and 145 others more or less seriously injured, is the result of the wreck of an electric express train on the New York Central railroad at 47th street and Webster avenue, Saturday night. Of the large number of injured, fifty are, according to hospital and police reports, seriously hurt and the death-list may be increased within the next twenty-four hours. Most of the others are suffering from lacerations or shock, and will recover. The cause of the wreck is still a matter of speculation.

Motorman Rogers of the wrecked train, according to the coroner, has made a statement that he was running on schedule time when the accident occurred and admitted that the speed of train was seventy miles an hour. Rogers, said the coroner, declares that he did not know anything was wrong until an eighth of a mile beyond the place of derelict. It is thought that a spreading of the rails caused the disaster. It is supposed that one of the motors left a section of the track with force enough to cause it to jump off. The smoker followed and swung the cars following completely off the track, between the crossing. When the rear cars broke loose they ran wild for a distance and finally turned over.

When the wreck occurred the three year coaches, completely filled with passengers, mostly theatre parties and commuters, were thrown on their right side just above a sharp curve at Woodlawn Road bridge. People were hurled violently from their seats and the most of those who were killed were pitched through the windows as the cars slid on their sides. The third rail held for a time, but finally broke with a flash and a roar sent and heard for a great distance. Between the wreck the "current" rail and the main track the bodies were wedged. They were held here as the cars passed along, and in this way were terribly mangled. Among the passengers was a party of girls from Miss Knox's fashionable school at White Plains, several of whom were killed. Most of the dead and injured are women.

Death gripped some of the passengers quickly and mercifully. Others had their limbs torn off and blood with fractured skulls were stunned into unconsciousness of further injury. And when the motor cars, with air-brakes set, finally came to a stop the shattered cars remained on their sides with their passengers piled on top of one another, the dead and injured mixed together, with seats and splintered iron and woodwork piled upon them.

LOUISVILLE MEN "SHOW SPEED"

Greater Louisville Exposition Opening March 18 For Two Weeks—Will Have Creators, Famous Musicians, Baseball, Low Rates—In Fact Everything of Interest.

As the time for the opening of the Greater Louisville Exposition draws nearer, the interest in that great event in this and all other sections of the state of Kentucky, as well as throughout the South, is greatly increasing. The visitors to Louisville will return home and give expressions of deep interest in the exposition and pride in the enterprise and public spirit of the exposition officials who are working so hard in the interest of their state and city, without prospect or wish for any pecuniary gain.

Showing what side they take in their city's great enterprise, the merchants and manufacturers of Louisville have covered their envelopes and stationary almost over with advertising matter concerning the exposition, and the title, "Greater Louisville Exposition," seems to appear in the most unexpected quarters at the most unexpected time. Louisville "drummers" who visit here not one escape, and if for no other reason, the people of Kentucky will be bound to go to Louisville between March 18 and 30 to see what has been widely heralded. This will be a matter of easy accomplishment, because the railroad of Kentucky have announced a rate of one fare for the round trip, with three selling dates each week, the tickets returning until April 1. Besides these splendid rates, many single-day excursions will be run, and it is said by the railroad officials composing the Southeastern Passenger Association that the rates for these excursions will be the best ever offered for a similar enterprise.

The Division of Programme of the exposition is now busily engaged in preparing the plans for various special days. Interesting programmes will be arranged for these special days, and the music by the great Creators of the exposition twice daily. This band of sixty renowned soloists is recognized everywhere as being absolutely the foremost organization of its kind, and the twice daily concerts will be included in the extraordinarily low price of admission, which will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for children. For special days, Sig. Creators have very graciously consented to make his programme typical of the occasion. The following days have been decided upon, and plans are in train to make each one a unique success: Dedication Day, Edison Day, Children's Day, Greater Louisville and Fairs Cities Day, All Kentucky Day, Fraternal Day, Transportation Day, Woman's Day, Greater Day, Music Day, Newspaper Day and University Day.

It will be of interest to lovers of the national game to know that the Louisville baseball team will contest with two major league teams during the exposition period, playing five games in all. It can be seen that the people of Kentucky will have a splendid opportunity of seeing the Greater Louisville Exposition, hear Creators' famous band, and see such magnificent baseball organizations as the Chicago National League team and the Boston Americans. Boston will play three games, March 22, 24 and 25, while Chicago will play two games, March 28 and 29.

There is no citizen of Louisville who does not stand ready to extend a warm and brotherly welcome to his fellow Kentuckian from any part of the state. Likewise a warm and hospitable welcome will be extended to all exposition visitors.

The hotel keepers in Louisville have announced to the state in particular and to the South in general that there will be no advance in charges during the exposition period. The forbearance of these public entertainers has been noticeable in the past, and it is likely to redound greatly to their profit in the near future.

REMARKABLE STORY

Missing Treasurer Accounts for the Missing Bonds.

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 22.—President Philip Corbin of the Savings bank of New Britain has made public a letter received from William F. Walker, the missing treasurer, mailed from New York about two weeks ago and just before he disappeared. In the letter Walker states that he was duped by men who purported to be representatives of a bond house that the Savings bank did business. He said that it was stated that there had been a wrongful issue of certain bonds and over issue of certain bonds of which the bank had held for a long time. Walker finally turned all the bonds over to three men and later discovered that the men did not represent the house at all.

"The amount involved is very large," he says, "and the matter has so upset me that I am not sure of my mind. I do not tell you just what the bonds were. I want to assure you whatever was in the hands of the men that I have not been benefited by it or by any other transactions to the amount of one dollar. No gain has been received by me, and no loss because I have been the gainer."

SALOON KEEPER HELD

Accused of Being Responsible for Engineer's Death.

Paris, Ill., Feb. 22.—After two weeks of investigation, the coroner's jury impaneled to investigate the death of George Brice, a Cairo, Ill., engineer, rendered a verdict ascribing the responsibility to Perry Lansaw, a local saloon keeper. Brice was shot on the night of Jan. 22, as he was trying to gain entrance to the saloon. His death ensued on Feb. 6, as the result of blood poisoning. He maintained from the first that Lansaw shot him, but to this there was no direct evidence, as no one except the wounded man actually saw shot fired, and it came from inside the building.

Lansaw, who denies all knowledge of the shooting, admits that he slept in the saloon that night, and there was no one else in the building. He was arrested immediately on the return of the coroner's verdict and gave bond for his appearance in the sum of $2,000.

Bloomington Girl Admits Using Money of Her Church.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 22.—Miss Helen Dixon, treasurer of the Gleasons' Society of the Second Christian church, has at last admitted that her extravagance in personal expenditures had dissipated the $1,200 for a new organ, which had been intrusted to her.

For the first time since her arrest she talked freely at the home of a friend. Although ill and hardly able to speak above a whisper, she admitted that the money of the church placed in her care had slipped through her fingers in some manner for her personal desires and with little help from outsiders. Much of the mystery which surrounded the case was cleared up by this statement:

Here Are Found Accurately Detailed the Happenings of the Largest Import Which Are Attracting Attention Throughout Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 22.—A case similar in many respects to that of Harry K. Thaw, now being tried in New York city, was the occasion for a new ruling for the Kentucky court of appeals. In reversing a judgment sentencing James A. Ship of Taylor county to life imprisonment for killing J. A. Smith of Campbell county for alleged improper relations with his wife, the court holds that it was competent for the defendant to tell the jury of a confession by his wife to him of her relations with Smith, which confession, he says, she made to him two days before the killing; and that it was not competent to prove her chastity as rebutting the idea that she would have made such a confession to her husband. Ship killed Smith on sight after, he says, hearing the story from his wife's lips.

Guy Lyons was also married.

James Lyons, who did nothing more than hold Mr. Gladder, confessed and was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. John Sacra was also sentenced to death, but he was granted a new trial.

S. A. HAWLEY

Succumbs To Death After a Long Illness at His Home in Havesville.

Mr. Stephen A. Hawley, one of the best known and loved citizens of the town of Havesville, died at 1:30 a. m. yesterday, after an illness extending over several months. A year or so ago Mr. Hawley, who was a contractor and carpenter, fell from a building in this city, receiving such injuries as unfitted him for active duties, and laid the foundation for the end. The immediate cause of his death was Bright's disease. Yesterday morning he ate considerable breakfast, but died in a short time after.

Mr. Hawley was born in Havesville on February 10th, 1843. He was a devoted member of the Baptist congregation, and was a man who was universally respected and beloved. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows lodge, and we understand this body will officiate at his burial, which will occur at 2:00 p. m. to-day, interment in Havesville Cemetery.

Mr. Hawley leaves a widow and two sons—Messrs. George and Charles Hawley—Hancock County.

Mr. Hawley was a cousin of Mrs. J. H. Willis, of this city. Mrs. Willis visited him a few days before his death.

BRUCE AT HIS POST

New British Ambassador Arrives at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Hon. James Bryce, the new British ambassador to Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Bryce, arrived here at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were met at the station by Mr. Esme Howard, councillor of legation and chargé d'affaires, and the entire embassy staff and ladies, who extended them a hearty greeting. The ambassador and his wife were immediately driven to their temporary apartments in Stomach court, within the grounds of the embassy are being completed.

The Pain Family

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Earache, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unbearable. The way to stop pain is to soothe and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. The whole Pain family yield to their influence. Harmless if taken as directed.

"I find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills an excellent remedy for overcoming headache, neuralgia and distressing pains of all sorts, and I can recommend them from seven years in this capacity with the best of results." MRS. JOE MERRILL, Peru, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that you will get the genuine. If you do not, you will get a cheap imitation. It is a shame to let your money go for a cheap imitation. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. It is called sudden death. It is caused by heart disease. It is the result of indigestion, kidney trouble, or a failure of the heart. It is the result of a sudden attack of the blood which will attack the vital organs or the kidneys. This is Worth Saving.
The following simple home-made mixture is said to relieve any form of Rheumatism or backache, also cleanse and strengthen the Kidneys and Bladder, overcoming all urinary disorders, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce, Compound Karger's one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well known authority states that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction, and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble or suffer with lame back or weak bladder or Rheumatism, should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly be done by its use and it is said to do wonders for some people.

Enjoying Florida.
News has been received from Mr. Fred Fraize, that he is having a most pleasant outing in Florida, spending most of his time fishing. Mr. Fraize writes the climate there is balmy and warm like May weather in Kentucky. Mr. Fraize will no doubt be very much improved in health after he returns from his recreation in the south-land.

$100 Reward. $100.
The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh of the Bladder is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken into the system and cures the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the system strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Adm's Vesicubly.
There is some curiosity as to the size of Father Adam's vesicubly. As he had to invent to fit the necessities that arose, it undoubtedly was what might be called a working vocabulary. Presumably it did not equal in dimensions that of Mother Eve. She needed a larger one. "I made up a new word today, Ad," she would say, and then the two would talk it over and perhaps smooth it down or polish it up. And maybe Adam would think up a new word while he paraded up and down in his bare feet through the clunk of jungle that they called from yard trying to get one of the lady boys to sleep. It didn't take much to suggest to the young fellow that he should establish his job or step on a hornet his vocabulary would promptly receive several additions that were of the more forcible than elegant class. And Eve had her special words, too, and she had a way of repeating them a great many times to Adam's profound discomfiture. No, Adam's vocabulary was not big enough to describe the name. It wasn't even a near vocabulary—it was just a bunch of half baked words.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lovers' Ink.
There are various kinds of invisible ink which can be wiped off a sheet of paper with a pocket handkerchief without leaving a trace. Dissolve some starch in water and add a sheet of paper with a pocket handkerchief. It will disappear as easily as chalk will from an ordinary school blackboard when a rubber is used upon it.—London Telegraph.

Expectation of Life.
From statistics of insurance companies it would appear that if a boy lives until he is 10 years of age he may reasonably expect to live 50 years longer. At 15 he may expect to live 46½ years; at 20, 40 years; at 25, 35½ years; at 30, 35½ years; at 35, 32½ years; at 40, 28½ years; at 45, 24½ years; at 50, 21½ years; at 55, 17½ years; at 60, 14½ years; at 65, 11½ years; at 70, 9 years; at 75, 6½ years; at 80, 4½ years; at 85, 2½ years; at 90, 2½ years. Girls of 10 may expect to live 48 years. From this time until they are 40 their expectations are a little less than those of a man. From 40 to 55 a woman has a little better chance than a man, and at 55 both may expect to live 19½ years. Then their chances diminish rapidly until a man's until at 90 he may expect to live only 1.85 years longer.—Exchange.

NOTICE.

There will be a Tacky Party and Oyster Supper in Cloverport soon. According to the Old Testament, clean animals are those which chew the cud and part the hoof. Hares and rabbits are unclean because, although they chew the cud, they do not part the hoof. Pigs and camels, which part the hoof, are unclean because they do not chew the cud.

Caution.

Imitations have been placed upon the market so closely resembling Alcock's Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Alcock's, for they are not only lacking in the best elements which have made Alcock's so efficient, but are often harmful in their effects. Remember that Alcock's are original and only genuine, proven, and the best external remedy known—and when purchasing Plasters the only safe way is to always insist upon having Alcock's.

"I wanten return dis dog to de gent 'Wat owns him," said the tough young mucker at the door. "I seen de ad. in de paper."

"How did you guess it was 'a' gent that put de ad. in?" asked the lady. "Because it said, 'No questions asked.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a thorough digestant. Kodol digests what you eat and allows the stomach to rest—re-creates—grows strong again. Kodol is a solution of digestive acids and as nearly as possible approximates the digestive juices that are found in the stomach. Kodol takes the work of digestion off the digestive organs, and enables the stomach to work more freely, greatly assist the stomach to a thorough rest. Kodol is manufactured in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by all druggists.

A singular custom prevails in Yorkshire, England. In parts of the West Riding it is quite common for visitors to find a home in which a new baby has appeared to carry with them as an offering to the infant a new laid egg, some salt, a piece of bread and in some cases a penny.

Piles of people have Piles. Dr. Swift's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve gives relief. Nothing else so good. Beware of imitations. See that the name is stamped on each box. Sold by all druggists.

The intensity of confined sound is illustrated at Carlsbad castle, Isle of Wight, where there is a well 200 feet deep and twelve feet in diameter, lined with smooth masonry. When a stone is dropped into it, the sound of it striking the surface of the water 182 feet below can be distinctly heard.

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for Piles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, pain, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see! Sold by Severs Drug Company.

Got His Reward.
"I saw a young fellow who thought he'd be funny got the worst of it. He boarded the car right behind a very pretty girl who, when it was time to get off, he didn't know. When I went for his fare, he gave me a dime. 'For that young lady, too,' he said, pointing at the girl, two seats ahead. When I went along up the car, the girl held out a nickel. I told her her fare had been paid."

"By whom?" she demanded. I pointed the young man out. He was smiling in a sickly manner. "You've made a mistake," the girl said to me, loud enough for him to hear; "he meant to pay for this colored woman."

"She dropped the five cent piece in my hand and pointed at an old negro woman who was sitting in the next seat. 'You mean to pay for this colored woman?'"

"You got it on the young man, so when the negro woman offered her fare I told her it had been paid by him. The young fellow decided that he was getting too warm for him on that car, so he got off at the next corner. As he left the car the negro woman said, 'Much obliged, sah!'"

"You ought to have seen the girl laugh."—Denver Post.

AN OCEAN TRAGEDY.

British Steamer Wrecked and 143 Lives Are Lost.

London, Feb. 22.—The worst disaster for many years was the wreck of the British steamer Carlsbad off the coast of England and the continent occurred during a violent gale yesterday morning when the Rotterdam mail steamer Berlin, from Harwich to Hook of Holland, having safely weathered the hurricane, was wrecked on the rocks of the coast. With one single exception all her passengers and crew, numbering altogether 143 persons, lost their lives. The terrific seas broke up the steamer with such awful suddenness that the survivors were few and far between. The Carlsbad was a ship of 300 yards and well buoyed and lighted, is always difficult of access in rough weather. It is conjectured that the derangement of the engines or steering gear may have rendered the vessel uncontrollable. Captain Precious of the Berlin had a good record of service and the list of passengers was lost and all the names of those on board have not yet been learned, but as far as has been ascertained there were no Americans among the passengers.

Kelsey's Removal Demanded.
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Governor Hughes has recommended to the senate the removal of Otto Kelsey, state superintendent of insurance, on the ground of unfitness for the position, demonstrated by what the governor regards as a lack of appreciation and grasp of the needs of the department.

Jews Attacked at Odessa.
Odessa, Feb. 20.—Ninety-five Jews and Jewesses have been removed to hospitals, suffering from injuries sustained in a riot in Odessa. The riot was instigated by members of the Union of Russian Men. The racial ill-feeling runs high and the Jews here are in hourly expectation of another series of outrages.

Mexican Mine Horror Grows.
Laredo, Tex., Feb. 20.—Word from Laredo, Tex., where a disastrous mine explosion occurred Monday, states that first reports were by no means exaggerated and that the bodies of many of the victims were found last night by members of the Union of Russian Men. The racial ill-feeling runs high and the Jews here are in hourly expectation of another series of outrages.

"I Consider Per-na"

The Finest Remedy

On The Market And Worthy Of The Confidence Of All Good People."

Mrs. Celeste Covell.

Mrs. Celeste Covell, formerly President of the Betsy Ross Educational and Benevolent Society, writes from 1432 Harrison street, Chicago, Ill.:

"Only those who have suffered with influenza and have been cured can appreciate how grateful I feel that such a splendid medicine as Per-na has been placed at the door of every man and woman. I only wish that all knew of its fine qualities."

"In cases of catarrh of the stomach and head I have seen some remarkable cures through its use. I consider your Per-na the finest remedy on the market and worthy of the confidence of all good people."

Recommend Per-na.
Mrs. Alice J. Borden, 1111 Maple Ave., Harrisburg, Pa., writes:

"I have found a cure in Per-na. I cannot recommend Per-na enough. I also thank you for your kind attention to me. I am as well as could be ever since I began taking Per-na."

A Letter to the Public.
Mr. Traft Johnson, 1929 8th street, Bath Beach, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"In all my experiments with medicine in the effort to improve a condition impaired by overwork, I have found nothing that has done so much good as Per-na. As a tonic it is grand. It takes pleasure in recommending it to professional people and to the public in general."

Praise For Per-na.
Miss Ella L. Matthews, box 111, Hill City, Tenn., writes:

"From experience I have decided that there could be no greater medicine in the world than Per-na. I am ever ready to praise Per-na to my friends."

Shooters From Their Cradles.
The best shots in the world are the Kentucky mountaineers. The west has nothing to compare with them. When it comes to "pulling a gun" quickly and shooting accurately the most expert of frontier had men would appear slow and clumsy by the side of many of these mountain outlaws. They learn to shoot almost as soon as they graduate from the cradle. Many of their sports relate to shooting. The proprietor of the crossroads store has a shooting gallery in his establishment, where in other localities you might find a slingshot. In one store I saw a wheel about half the size of a spinning wheel with pieces of cardboard containing numbers on the different spokes. The charge was "nine pence" (10 cents) a shot, and the participant picked his number. The prizes ranged all the way from a box of cartridges to a bag of cornmeal or a side of "sow bacon," according to the size of the piece of cardboard selected. The wheel was given a swift whirl by the storekeeper; but, judging from the shooting I saw, I could not see wherein he derived any profit from the contrivance.—C. T. Revere in Outing Magazine.

Thick and Thin Glasses.
The reason that thick glasses crack more readily than thin ones when hot water is poured into them is because glass is a slow conductor of heat, and when hot liquid is poured into a glass vessel the interior expands before the heat reaches the exterior; consequently there is a struggle between the two forces and the glass flies to pieces.—St. Louis Republic.

Her System.
"Maria, what on earth is the use of your telling the girl to be sure and wake you at 6 o'clock? She does it every morning, and you never get up at that time."

"John, I don't want you to interfere with my way of running the house. I know just what I am doing. When that girl calls me at 6 o'clock I know she's up, and that is what I want!"—Chicago Tribune.
